GAME PREVIEW

BEARS VS. RAVENS

WEEK 8 | SUNDAY, OCT. 26, 2025

OLB Kyle Van Noy

QUOTH THE RAVEN

"We always appreciate the fans through everything. We all know it's rough right now, and they want to see a good product out there, and we haven't been displaying that. ... We want to let them know that we are going to keep working, and we are going to turn this thing around. [There is] still a lot of football left. We're going to keep having faith in one another and get this thing turned around. I feel like we still have time. Just believe in us. We believe in each other, and we are going to get it where we need to go."

— RB Derrick Henry

The Baltimore Ravens (1-5) aim to snap a four-game skid when they host the Chicago Bears (4-2 and winners of four straight games) at M&T Bank Stadium today (1 p.m. kickoff). Baltimore, which has battled significant injuries and time missed by many key players this season, is coming off a Week 7 bye, while Chicago posted a 26-14 win over New Orleans last Sunday at home.

Since John Harbaugh's 2008 arrival, the Ravens are 14-3 in games that immediately follow their bye week (the NFL's second-best record). In these games immediately after a bye, Baltimore has posted an NFL-best +167 scoring margin (458 points scored vs. an NFL-best 291 points allowed).

The Ravens are 3-4 all time against the Bears, including a 2-2 mark under Coach Harbaugh. Sunday marks just the fourth-ever meeting between these clubs in Baltimore, where the Ravens are 2-1.

Coach Harbaugh (18th season) is the NFL's second-longest-tenured head coach (Mike Tomlin - 19), while his Ravens are one of four teams (GB - 13, KC - 12 and NE - 12) with at least 12 playoff berths in the past 17 seasons. Since Harbaugh's 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have produced the NFL's fourth-most total victories (186), winning Super Bowl XLVII in 2012 and advancing to four AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012 & 2023).

Following today's game, the Ravens will play three straight road games, beginning with a Thursday Night Football appearance at Miami

NUMBERS TO NOTE

74 Receiving yards needed by TE Mark Andrews (5,704) to pass WR Derrick Mason (5,777) as the Ravens' career leader in that category. Andrews already owns the franchise's all-time mark for TDs scored (53, including 2 this season).

103.0 Career passer rating for QB Lamar Jackson, ranking as the best figure in NFL history. (Aaron Rodgers is second at 102.7.) Jackson's 130.5 rating in 2025 ranks as the NFL's best mark and is 14.1 points higher than the next (Drake Maye, 116.4).

432 Total tackles for LB Roquan Smith since being traded to the Ravens in 2022. In 45 games with Baltimore, Smith has posted 5 sacks, 20 TFL, 3 INTs and 15 PD.

138 Rushing yards needed by RB Derrick Henry to reach the 12,000 career mark, which would make him just the 17th RB in NFL history to achieve the 12K milestone.

1,739 Combined snaps played by Ravens rookies this season, ranking as the NFL's fifth most.

(Oct. 30). Baltimore then visits Minnesota (Nov. 9) and Cleveland (Nov. 16), before having three consecutive home games: vs. NYJ, vs. Cincinnati (Thanksgiving Night) & vs. Pittsburgh.

ON THE RAVENS MAXIMIZING THEIR BYE WEEK:

"I feel really good about what we did. I feel great about what we accomplished. There was a lot of hard work, discernment, judgment, choices, things that you have to decide about what direction you want to go, what's best for us going forward, so that we can maximize and play our best football. I'm really pleased with where we're at. Now, we have to go put it into action. The opportunity in front of us is great, and we have the people for the job. We have everything we need, and we have to go get started this week."

ROQUAN SMITH:

EVERYWHERE

By Rachel Richards

Since his Baltimore arrival following a mid-season trade from the Chicago Bears in 2022, Roquan Smith has been impossible to miss. On the field, in the meeting rooms, around the community and even across the world, Smith is constantly moving with a purpose.

Nicknamed “quarterback of the defense” by his teammates, he’s a wrecking ball for opposing offensive gameplans and a relentless force at the heart of the unit, but his powerful presence extends everywhere he goes.

Smith carries the same intensity and passion to life outside of football, as he balances gaining a global perspective with his workout routine in the offseason. He has traveled to Australia, Peru, Japan and various European countries in recent years, gaining appreciation for different cultures and trying unique cuisines from around the world.

When football is back in session, Smith can be found volunteering throughout the Baltimore community and his home state of Georgia — hosting youth football camps, back-to-school drives or food pantry distributions on his off days. The two-time Ravens Walter Payton Man of the Year Nominee (2023-24) recognizes the impact he can have on young people’s lives and values providing for those in need.

“I care deeply about giving back to others,” Smith expressed. “We’re all very blessed to be playing the game that we play, so I just feel it’s only right to give back. I’m just grateful to be in this position.”

Among his most notable community involvements is “Holiday Helpers,” an annual December charity event funded by his foundation that gifts a positive holiday experience and shopping spree for 60 underserved children.

But make no mistake that when “Agent Zero” is lined up between the hashes, he’s back to business and flying around the gridiron. From sacks in the backfield, hard-hitting tackles at the line of scrimmage or touchdowns in the end zone, Smith is a playmaker and tone-setter at every level.

“He’s a special player and a special human,” defensive coordinator Zach Orr shared. “His play is infectious on and off the field. If you’re a great player, and you’re a great person, you’re going to inspire people in multiple ways. ‘Ro’ has multiple ways of doing that.”

Earlier this season against Cleveland, Smith became the first NFL player since at least 2008 to record at least 15 tackles, three tackles for loss and one defensive touchdown in a single game, earning AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

While the admiration and respect for Smith is widespread throughout the Ravens

Flock, his infectious energy is felt most by his teammates.

“It’s like having a coach out there on the field,” rookie linebacker Teddy Buchanan stated on playing next to Smith. “‘Ro’ makes all the difference on our defense and our team as a leader, so all the credit in the world to him. I can’t say enough good things about him.”

Smith and the Ravens are facing the Bears for the first time since the trade, but his mentality entering the matchup remains steadfast. The eight-year pro approaches every game with the same ferocity and preparation, so he’ll be fired up to play no matter the opponent, time or place.

“At the end of the day, they can roll the ball out anywhere — concrete, basketball court or wherever. I’ll be there.”

G ANDREW VORHEES EVERMORE

Andrew Vorhees, a third-year veteran hailing from Kingsburg, CA, worked to earn a spot at left guard and has continued to hone his skills along the offensive line. The 2023 seventh-round draft choice and USC alum has appeared in 21 games (9 starts) over his three-year career in the NFL. Get to know more about him below:

What are some of your favorite sports teams to follow?

I like the L.A. Dodgers and the Lakers.

If you weren't playing football, what do you think you would be doing right now?

I think I would be in the business world.

What are some of your favorite restaurants in Baltimore?

For the size of Baltimore and for the size of the market here, I think they have really good restaurants that go underappreciated. My favorite restaurants, in no particular order, are Little Donna's, Marta Fine Food and Spirits, La Cuchara and The Charmery.

What is something you're passionate about?

I love history. Growing up on the West Coast, there's not as much history as there is back East. All of the Civil War battlefields and early American history is out here. I like doing that during the offseason. I keep finding myself going back to Gettysburg.

What is something that is on your bucket list that is non-football related?

I have never left the country. I would love to leave the country and explore other cultures and the Wonders of the World, like the pyramids. Maybe go out to Africa on a safari, too. There are a lot of countries in Asia and Europe that I would like to visit as well.

Who are some of your favorite musical artists to listen to?

I love country music. All-time favorites include George Strait and Johnny Cash. I really like Guns N' Roses, Pearl Jam and Nirvana. I also like Brooks & Dunn.

If you were stuck on a deserted island with one teammate, who would it be and why?

Are we just trying to survive? I would probably go with Charlie Kolar. I think he would be a pretty resourceful guy.

THE BOYS & GIRLS CLUB PROJECT IS ONLY THE THIRD COLLABORATION IN THE NATION BETWEEN AN NFL TEAM AND A BOYS & GIRLS CLUB.

COMMUNITY SHOWCASE ON RAVENSWALK

Today's Community Showcase featured the Alzheimer's Association. For more information on the organization, please visit: <https://www.alz.org/>

On Oct. 6, owner of the Baltimore Ravens, Steve Bisciotti, Ravens players, including CB Jaire Alexander and OLB Kyle Van Noy, joined Ravens Legend Torrey Smith, Mayor Brandon Scott and members of the Boys & Girls Club to celebrate the opening of the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club at Hilton Recreation Center.

BALTIMORE RAVENS BOYS & GIRLS CLUB

On Oct. 6, the Baltimore Ravens, The Bisciotti Family Foundation, Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Baltimore (BGCMB), Baltimore City Recreation & Parks, LEVEL82, and Green Street Academy hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially open the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club at Hilton Recreation Center in West Baltimore.

The celebration marked the culmination of a $20 million investment by the Ravens and The Bisciotti Family Foundation, in partnership with BGCMB to transform the Hilton Recreation Center into a state-of-the-art facility serving hundreds of youth and families. The club will provide academic support, mentoring, leadership development, health and wellness programs and athletic opportunities for local youth.

The newly-renovated facility includes an indoor and outdoor basketball court (donated by 4x NBA Champion, Stephen Curry), a teen center, activity and games spaces, tutoring spaces and indoor and outdoor community gathering areas. The multi-purpose athletic field was also named in recognition of longtime Ravens President Dick Cass. The project builds upon earlier efforts by Ravens Legend Torrey Smith, his wife, Chanel, and their nonprofit LEVEL82, which previously reopened the Hilton Recreation Center.

IN OUR COMMUNITY

10/10 The Ravens hosted their second Purple Friday Caravan of the 2025 season. Ravens Cheerleaders, Poe and members of the Marching Ravens joined staff members at four elementary schools across Baltimore to surprise students with a pep rally.

10/10 WR Zay Flowers and TE Isaiah Likely visited Green Street Academy and the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club to watch a double header of girls flag and boys tackle football games through the Ravens RISE High School Football Showdown.

10/20 WR Rashod Bateman hosted his third annual Halloween costume party for families of the Ronald McDonald House. In addition to purchasing a meal for families and costumes for kids, Bateman spent time distributing candy and crafting with the residents.
